

RESUMES MARCH AGAINST BERLIN

Russian Right Wing Pushes
All Across Eastern Prussia.

THREE GREAT ARMIES

Fifteen Thousand German Prisoners
—Many Wounded Perish From Cold
—Others Eaten by Wolves.

Petrograd, Nov. 7.—The general advance against Berlin, halted when the Germans invaded Russian Poland in force, was resumed today.

Three great armies are pressing forward.

The Russian right wing under General Rennenkampf, is reported to have pushed all across the East Prussian frontier, its objective will be Königsberg. The Russian central armies, which decisively defeated the Germans in front of Warsaw, is keeping up its westward movement and is severely harassing the Germans, who have several times attempted to resume the aggressive, only to be defeated with losses. In Galicia the Austro-German forces have been defeated all along the line of the San river with the exception of a small section around Przemyśl which has been screened. The Austrians are falling back on Cracow and the Russians are again headed for this position.

In the East Prussia zone Wirballer is now the only fortress in the path of the Russians, who are confident that the Germans will soon be obliged to retire from that city because of a flanking attack which has been launched and which is thus far proceeding successfully.

It is stated here that the losses of the Austro-German armies have stubbornly attempted to retain their positions in the face of severe artillery fire, with the result that many men have been needlessly sacrificed.

During the last week it is stated that 15,000 prisoners have been taken including some officers of high rank. The Russians have also captured large quantities of war munitions, cannon, automobile guns and rapid-firers.

The Germans are suffering greatly from lack of proper clothing for cold weather fighting. In the north there have been heavy snows and in the south sleet and cold rains. The entire country is a quagmire. The roads have been cut up by the heavy transport and are sloughs of mud more than a foot deep. The Russians are completely equipped for meeting such conditions, while the Germans are not.

Hundreds of wounded on both sides have perished from cold. Of those who could be rescued by the Red Cross many will die from wounds having become infected. There are many cases of lockjaw. At many points on the battlefields great packs of wolves have come out of the forests and down from the mountains, and have devoured the dead and wounded. So bold are they that they have not hesitated to attack isolated bands of soldiers.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Thirteen German generals have been killed in the present war.

It is stated from Tokyo that the German cruisers Schranhornst and Gniessau have been captured while coaling.

Stephen Mahan, 4 years old, son of Mary Mahan, of Washington, was instantly killed last midnight, when an automobile in which he was riding with his mother and a party of relatives turned turtle and went over an embankment. The accident happened at a point 3 miles south of Marlboro, Mr. The machine ran into a flock of sheep.

Protection for American industries, the upbuilding of the commerce of the country, the construction of a navy that will be sufficient to protect the country and guard our commerce and a guaranteed protection of life and property in Mexico will be four of the principal planks in the Republican platform at the next general election according to Representative James R. Mann, of Illinois, Republican leader in the House.

At many well known women's tailoring establishments and millinery shops in the West End of London, guarantees are given as to completion of ordinary orders, for everything is subsequent to orders for mourning gowns and hats. In one millinery establishment twenty widows' bonnets were conspicuous in the shop. When asked why so many were kept in stock this answer was given: "They are for twenty widows, and represent orders given in three day's time." At the tailoring places it is said additional help had been secured to complete mourning clothes, other orders being taken subject to delay.

An officer of the steamer Cornish City, which was sunk by the German cruiser Karlsruhe, has just arrived at Cardiff, Wales, and reports that the Germans apparently have a secret naval depot on an island off the northern coast of Brazil. With this base, and with fast scoutships that are equipped with powerful wireless, the Germans are able to keep well informed as to the movements of British merchantmen in the Atlantic and Caribbean.

William Ahning, express messenger on the Rock Island Hot Springs train, held up between these two points April 9 and robbed of $1,300 yesterday in Federal court at Little Rock, Ark., confessed that he planned the robbery with W. W. Dunn, a former Rock Island conductor, and another man. Ahning declared that one of the men boarded the train at Hot Springs and with Ahning's permission bound and gagged him and locked him in a trunk. Ahning said that he met Dunn and the other man in Little Rock and divided the spoils and that he received $500 as his share.

TRAVEL TALK ON THE 10TH.

A travel talk on the battlefield of western Europe will be given at the Norton Memorial, next to St. Paul's Church, Tuesday, November 10th, at 8 p. m. by Mrs. Emma Barlow DeVries. It will be in the form of a tour through Germany, Holland, Belgium, and northern France, showing lantern slides of pictures of cities so often mentioned in the war news—Antwerp, Brussels, Rheims and Louvain. The talk will embody the customs of the people, geography of the country, and the facts relative to invariable choice for centuries of western Europe as a natural battleground. A silver offering will be taken up at the end of the lecture.

GERMANS MASS TROOPS AT LILLE

Invaders About to Make Another Effort to Reach Coast.

ALLIES REINFORCED.

Kaiser Has narrow Escape From Bomb
Dropped a Few Days Ago Upon His Headquarters at Thien.

Paris Nov. 7.—Once more Lille holds the center of attention along the fighting line in the north. The Germans are massing troops there in enormous numbers. It is considered certain that, baffled along the Belgian line, they will now make another attempt to win through to the coast from the south of Lille.

Success would isolate a large allied force and cut the coast lines of communications. It is known, however, that this will be an almost impossible task, as the forces opposing the Germans in this section have themselves been heavily re-enforced.

The Belgian government officially confirms the fact that an attempt to demolish the headquarters of the German general staff at Thien, while the Kaiser and his chief generals were in the building failed by only twenty minutes.

BOMB KILLED KAISER'S AIDES

German Emperor Had Left House 20 Minutes Before.

London, Nov. 7.—A correspondent of the Times in Northern France gives further details of Emperor William's escape from bombs at Thien, Belgium.

"For five days," says the correspondent, Emperor William was present at the operations on the Neuport-Ypres line. Last Sunday the Emperor with some of his aides arrived by motorcar at Thien, where apartments had been reserved for him at the hotel and where dinner was waiting.

"The Emperor's personal baggage already had been deposited in the bedroom in which he was to spend the night. The Emperor, in his hurry, did not dress for dinner and immediately after dining, instead of retiring to his room, hurriedly left the tavern with two aides and motored to the other end of the town, where other rooms were engaged.

"Twenty minutes later six bombs fell on the hotel and the Emperor's baggage in his room was destroyed. Two of the aides who had remained at the hotel were killed and their motorcar, which was waiting in the yard wrecked."

Auto Wheels Kill Boy.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—Alighting from an automobile delivery wagon while it was in motion, Harry West, 16 years old, received injuries yesterday which caused his death. The accident happened at Thirty-second street and Mantua avenue. As the lad jumped from the car his coat caught and he was thrown beneath the wheels.

CURE DECLARED WORTHLESS.

United States Public Health Service Repudiates Friedmann Claims.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—After an exhaustive investigation the United States Public Health Service announces Dr. F. F. Friedmann, the Berlin physician, has no claims to a discovery of a specific cure for tuberculosis.

The investigations showed that one-fourth of all the cases receiving the treatment developed running sores or abscesses at the place where they were injected.

The report adds that while some patients were buoyed up after an injection of the serum, others "progressed to a speedy death."

Mount Vernon Council, Daughters of America, held an interesting meeting last night. Musical selections were rendered by the Mandolin Club.

Members of the Alexandria Light Infantry will hold a competitive drill at Armory Hall tomorrow night. There will also be an officers drill and a drill for the squad medal.

Mrs. Charles E. Steiner fell on the street last night and was painfully injured. Her shoulder was dislocated.

GERMANS FAGGED OUT.

Kaiser's Forces Said to be Barely Able to Hold Their Positions.

Paris, Nov. 7.—Cheering news from the battle front in the north reached Paris again yesterday. Reports from east and south of Ypres are that the allies are continuing to advance their offensive, while the German army which still confronts the Belgians along the Yser, is apparently too worn-out to do more than hold its position.

The detachment that swung away from the coast and headed for Calais and Dunkirk through Ypres, Lille, and Arras, finds the opposition disheartening.

The allies have been preparing for the second dash through the territory commanded by Ypres, while the battle raged further to the north. As far east as Roule is, they have been strengthening their lines and making every preparation for an anticipated attack. Fortified by the knowledge which the Germans have still to gain by the bitterest sort of experience that it would be impossible for any army to advance along the north coast to Dunkirk and Calais, the allies awaited the inevitable turning to a more southern route and the last two days of the fighting have proved how astute they were. They are throwing against a strong defensive line, a body of troops disheartened by a succession of reverses, and are finding that the mobility of the allies, and the comparative freshness of the troops provide insurmountable obstacles in the cherished project of occupying Calais and Dunkirk and setting up a naval base that will command the English coast.

It is estimated by various correspondents and other observers that the Germans have lost 50,000 men in the last week.

The weeks of fighting along the Yser, where the dikes cut by the Belgians let in the sea on the entrenched and battling troops, miring their guns and turning their entire position into one great mudhole, have taken the heart out of the Germans and their failure to make any notable advance after throwing great masses of men and metal into the allied armies, have given them a wholesome respect for the enemy.

General Bonnal, one of France's military leaders, says:

"We are on the eve of a new victory comparable to that of the Marne."

MOTHER SAW CHILD KILLED

Fall Prevents Her Saving Little One From Train.

Bristol, Va., Nov. 7.—A mother's race to save her child failed yesterday when she stumbled and fell within a few feet of the track as a fast train rounding a curve came suddenly on the sleeping child and hurled the body from the rails.

Earl, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Curtis, strayed from the family home in a suburb, and was asleep on the Southern railway track when the mother, hearing the train approaching, rushed to its rescue. The little boy's skull was crushed.

JAPAN CELEBRATES FIRST VICTORY

Tsingtau, German Stronghold Surrenders Early This Morning.

BRILLIANT CHARGE.

White Flag Appears on Observation Tower at Sunrise—Garrison of Over Two Hundred Surrenders.

Tokyo, Nov. 7.—Japan is today celebrating her first big victory of the present war. Extra editions of the newspapers tell of the surrender of the German stronghold of Tsingtau, chief city of Kiaochow, at 7 o'clock this morning. It is expected the occupation of the entire concession will be completed today.

While complete details of the surrender are withheld for the present, it is known that it was due to one of the most brilliant charges in Japanese army history. With General Yamada at the head of a picked column the central forts were taken by assault. While the big siege guns kept up a continuous bombardment on the position, hammering holes in the walls, he picked column, made up of infantry and engineers, slowly slipped up on the fort. Finally on signal, they rushed forward and managed to gain an entrance, taking the fort's garrison of more than 200 men.

With this fort in their possession the result was no longer in doubt. Its guns commanded the city and the other forts, and there was no surprise when at daylight a white flag appeared on the weather observation tower. Immediately the bombardment ended.

RUSSIANS IN SIBERIA

Rich Section of Kaiser's Domains Said to be in Peril

Petrograd, Nov. 7.—News of the capture by the Russians of the Galician town of Jaroslavl, with 5,000 Austrian prisoners, is taken here to forecast an immediate successful march on Cracow and a successful invasion, farther to the north, of the German province of Silesia.

All along their 300-mile battle front the Russians have scored repeated and consecutive successes in the last week, the fall of Jaroslavl being the one event needed to make the triumph complete all the way from the East Prussian border, south through Poland, and into Galicia.

Not until yesterday was it known how completely the Russians had succeeded in their move toward the Silesian border. Late announcements by the war office state that the only check to an uninterrupted Russian advance into Silesia is the presence of the Germans in Wirballen, a town in Russian Poland.

Confidence is expressed that this single barrier will be swept away without much trouble, in which case the Russians will occupy at least the eastern portion of Silesia and gain a foothold in German territory from which they may not be dislodged except by terrific effort.

Already the Germans are known to be preparing for the most important battle in the eastern campaign, which will be fought between the Warthe river, where it runs north and south and the Silesian border.

The Germans are weakened here by having sent 500,000 soldiers to their western theater of war, in France and Belgium, and if the battle soon to be waged starts to go against them military experts believe they will evacuate France and Belgium in order to rush in enough men to keep the Czar out of Silesia. If the Russians should succeed in wresting this province from the Kaiser it would be an almost irreparable blow, as Silesia with its thousands of factories and immense coal mines is perhaps the richest single province in the Kaisers entire domains.

THREE PRESIDENTS WITHIN SIX MONTHS

Carranza, Successor to Huerta, is Now Practically an Exile.

TO GET HOME ABROAD.

American Troops Will Remain in Mexico Until Life and Property May Be Regarded Safe.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Three presidents in less than six months is Mexico's record. With the swearing into office of Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez by the Aguas Calientes peace conference Carranza, successor of Gen. Huerta as provisional president is practically made an exile. Reports say he left his temporary capital of Puebla for Soledad in the state of Vera Cruz and within the show of the American army. Another report says Huerta has offered him a "comfortable home abroad."

It is believed that the administration, while still watching every development closely, nevertheless is breathing more easily and confidence that the peace conference at Aguas Calientes will restore satisfactory conditions south of the Rio Grande is expressed.

Agents of the State Department, if they have not already received instructions probably will negotiate with the new president to insure the safety of foreigners at Vera Cruz when the American troops leave and to make some satisfaction agreement with respect to the collection of import duties by American officials at that port.

The removal of the American troops is still one of the big problems and no action will be taken until assurances are given by the new administration that property and life will be respected.

Carranza is expected to resign and go to Vera Cruz, according to latest advices. Since it has been impossible for him to carry the Aguas Calientes conference he has been moving his capital gradually toward Vera Cruz. The convention has fixed November 10th as the day for Carranza's retirement.

Carranza is reported to be working for the retirement of General Villa.

Amsterdam, Nov. 7.—The 'Vossische Zeitung' has published a dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, saying that Turkish cruisers have successfully bombarded the Russian fortified seaport of Batum, on the east shore of the Black Sea. The Turks have seized the British steamers Assiout and City of Khirs at Smyrna.

According to a Turkish official announcement, one of the British warships bombarding the Dardanelles was struck by a shot from one of the forts and an explosion on board resulted.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Isaac Eichberg Passes Away At His Home on North Washington St. Early Last Night.

Mr. Isaac Eichberg, one of the oldest, best known, and esteemed citizens, died at his residence on north Washington street early last night, after a short illness. He had been stricken while on the street.

He leaves a widow and the following children—Louis and Rudolph Eichberg, Mrs. Bertha Feldheim, of Kansas City, Mrs. M. Lipman, of Jersey City, Mrs. M. Rosenfeld, of Alexandria, Mrs. Hattie Fay, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Flora Erman.

Isaac Eichberg was born in Bavaria nearly 85 years ago. He came to this country when he was entering manhood and for a short time engaged in the business of a traveling merchant, and often came to Alexandria, where he finally concluded to locate. In the early fifties, when Alexandria was forging ahead, after having become a part of Virginia, and when the Smith & Perkins locomotive works were turning out engines, he was located on the north-west corner of King and Royal streets, where he conducted the clothing and furnishing goods business. Many of his customers at that time were employees of the locomotive works and of the ship yards which was located on the southeastern river front. He continued in the civil war, after which he engaged in other occupations, having been associated in banking institutions, building associations, etc. For several years he represented the Third ward in the Common Council having served on the finance committee, and was for a time President of the board. His last business occupation was a dry goods merchant in the building now occupied by the Alexandria National Bank. Of late years he had practically retired from commercial activities, although he remained President of the German Co-operative Building Association.

It may be said that Mr. Eichberg was a prominent figure in the commercial life of Alexandria for over half a century, and by his death one of the oldest Hebrew residents of this city has been gathered to the fathers. He had a strong predilection for his adopted city, in which he desired to end life's journey. A few years ago he had almost concluded to remove to Philadelphia in order to spend the evening of his life with his children, but his love for Alexandria and her people soon brought him back.

The deceased enjoyed an extensive acquaintance not only in this city, but throughout the adjoining country. In 1911 he celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage, at which time his many friends and acquaintances called and tendered their congratulations to him, his wife and children, wishing them a long lease upon life. On this occasion the members of the Jewish Synagogue in this city, of which he had long been an official, presented him with a massive gold loving cup. His words of appreciation, uttered in pathetic terms, produced some feeling among the givers.

With the death of Mr. Eichberg but one of the old time Israelites who lived among us in ante war times is among us—Mr. Simon Blondheim—who came to this city about the same time Mr. Eichberg took up his abode here.

The Gazette tenders its sincere sympathy to the members of his family who are sorrowing over the loss of a model husband and a kind and indulgent father, and the entire community unites with us in expressions of regret at the loss of an old and esteemed resident.

in the school and in the Literary Society.

The regular monthly meeting of the Girls' Athletic Association was held Thursday afternoon. The regular routine business of the organization was transacted. Miss Cora Pullman, President, presided.

Electric lights have been installed in the Third year room, this making three of the class room electrically lighted.

SKATING RINK TO OPEN.

Extensive Repairs Made to Armory Hall for New Enterprise.

The fascinating sport of roller skating which was very popular in Alexandria several years ago, and which is now having a wonderful revival all over the country, is to be commenced again in this city. C. J. Salvage, who has been in the rink business for a number of years, has secured the Alexandria Light Infantry which is being converted into a modern rink. Extensive repairs have been made to the old building. A large force of men have been at work scraping the floor and putting it in first class condition. The walls have been repainted and the building will be decorated. On the right on entering will be a wardrobe and a ladies' retiring room in charge of a competent maid. On the left will be the rooms for men.

An orchestra will be in attendance and everything will be conducted on a high plane. Winslow's skates will be used.

The new rink will open next Tuesday night.

LOSE SILESIA?

The rearranging of the map of the world after the present fearful war shall have been brought to a close will tax statesmen a long time. Great changes will be inevitable, as has ever been the case when colossal empires have reached their crest and the recession has set in. The Assyrio-Babylonian kingdom, which at one time practically dominated the earth was superseded by the Medo-Persian empire. The Greek succeeded in bringing that to a close. At the death of Alexander the Great his kingdom split into four parts, and the present European nations are the fragments of the great Roman empire, which perished at the hands of the Goths and Vandals.

Silesia, one of the richest sections of the Kaiser's domains, is now being invaded by Russia, and dispatches from the war zone say it will be no easy task to dislodge the Muscovites. Should Germany be forced eventually to give up this rich country, which Frederick the Great flched from Austria, it will be a retribution upon Prussia.

It will be remembered that while Austria was being ruled, under the pragmatic sanction, by Maria Theresa, Frederick had been professing great friendship for the young queen. He stood ready he said to protect her should any other nation attempt to deprive her of any portion of the country over which she had been placed, but, at a time when Austria was unable to defend herself, he coolly took possession of Silesia, a most important part of Maria Theresa's territory. The queen was forced to submit to this wholesale robbery on the part of her pretended friend.

The Russian bear now has his claws upon this rich section. He may never relax his hold.

DEATH OF ANOTHER
JEWISH RESIDENT.

Up to early last night when an old and much respected citizen was suddenly called to pay the debt of nature, four of the old-time Israelites residents of Alexandria were still in the land of the living. They were Isaac Eichberg, Louis Stein, Henry Blondheim and Simon Blondheim. There are now but three—Simon Blondheim is still a resident of this city. Henry Blondheim, now burdened with years, resides in Washington. Many years ago he conducted the clothing business on the north-west corner of King and Fairfax streets. Louis Stein is now living in Baltimore. He was at one time a member of the Common Council from the Second ward, and conducted the grocery business on the west side of Royal street, between King and Cameron. He visited the city during the home-coming week.

Among the Jewish residents of ante bellum days were Simon Waterman, Leopold Genzberger, Lipman Genzberger, Peter Seeldner, L. Lilienthal, Joseph Brager, Selig Blondheim, Henry Schwartz, Isaac Schwarz, Simpson Dreifus, Moses Anker and others who were at that time prominent in the commercial life of Alexandria.

Henry Strauss, who played a prominent part in Alexandria's commercial and political history, came here while the civil war was in progress, and continued here until his death in October, 1908.

COURT OF APPEALS.

City Council of Alexandria vs. Alexandria County, etc to Come up at This Term

Richmond, Nov. 7.—The State Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday granted an appeal and supersedeas in the case of Isaac Klaff vs. Dwight M. Pratt, which comes from the Law and Chancery Court of Norfolk. An injunction was granted by the court in Norfolk restraining Klaff from engaging in the hide, skin, fur and wool business in that city, and within a radius of five miles, for a period of five years, on representations made by Pratt, who claims to hold a contract under the terms of which Klaff is prohibited from engaging in such business within the territory specified except as a partner of Pratt, or with Pratt's consent.

The Court refused writs of error in the following cases.
C. W. Coleman vs. County of Norfolk. In this case Judge Coleman, elected to the Circuit bench by the last General Assembly, petitioned that his salary be not increased from $2,500 to $4,500. The case was argued in the Law and Chancery Court of Norfolk where it was decided that the salary must remain at $4,500. Judge Coleman then applied for a writ of error, which was denied by the Supreme Court.

Clary County Construction Com. pany vs. County of Wise, a road case. Appealed from the Circuit Court of Roanoke.

George E. Trainum and Julia P. Trainum vs. County of Henrico condemnation proceedings. Appealed from the Circuit Court of Henrico County.

Patrick Hagan vs. E. H. Howe and Thomas H. Fox. From Circuit Court of Goochland County; action in assumpsit, involving $1,600.

S. Isabel Risen, vs. J. H. Corbett. Appeal from Circuit Court of city of Suffolk; action of debt, involving $2,651.

Grover Breeden vs. Commonwealth. From Circuit Court of Greene county. Breeden was convicted of the murder of William Frazier, and was sentenced to serve ten years in the penitentiary.

C. H. Green vs. Edgar B. English and O'Flaherty & Fulton. Appealed from Law and Equity Court of Richmond; action in assumpsit, growing out of a suit prosecuted against Wickham & Northrop, receivers for the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, in which Green was awarded a verdict and judgment for $5,000. The case was reversed on appeal. It was alleged that the petition was not filed in time, and Green charged his attorneys with negligence, entering the suit against them, which he lost.

Cases were argued and submitted yesterday as follows.

Privilege docket.
No. 2. Water's executor vs. Tre-four et als. Argued by L. T. Hancok and W. A. Perkins and Mr. Walker for the appellant, and by Judge R. T. W. Duke for the appellee, and submitted.

COMPANY IS RESPONSIBLE

Use of Bale Hook by Foreman Cause of Explosion on Steamship Alum Chine.

Richmond, Nov. 7.—Sustaining the lower court in every particular, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in session here held Thursday that the Joseph R. Ford Company and the General Stevedore Company both of Baltimore were wholly liable for the results of a dynamite explosion on board the steamship Alum Chine, which occurred on March 7, 1913, in the port of Baltimore and caused the death of more than thirty persons, injuries to scores of others and large property loss. The Munson Steamship Company, chartered of the Alum Chine, the Alum Chine Steamship Company, the State of Maryland, the Mayor and City Council of the city of Baltimore were all joined as defendants, but were held free from liability.

The case or cases as twenty-five libels were heard together, came up from the United States District court at Baltimore. The court there held that the explosion was the result of negligence on the part of the employees of the General Stevedoring Company which was merely a department of the Joseph R. Ford Company. It adjudged damages in favor of those who had suffered injured against those companies. An appeal was noted but the decision of the lower court was fully upheld.

The Alum Chine was lying at quarantine anchorage in the Patuxent River on March 7, 1913, and a cargo of dynamite was being stowed on board. The foreman of the stevedoring crew, William J. Bonhardt, was using a bale hook to handle boxes. A slight explosion was heard, and a panic resulted. The tug Atlantic, seeing the trouble came to the assistance of the crew, and succeeded in getting several off, but was forced to back away. Before it had gone far a terrible explosion came from the Alum Chine. A number of men on the Atlantic were killed and injured as were some on the steamship Jason. 1,200 yards away. More than thirty lost their lives.

It was claimed by the defendants that the cause of the explosion had been a fire originated through the negligence of the crew of the Alum Chine. The court, however held the proximate cause to have been the negligent use of the bale hook.

FATHER LOSES SUIT.

Has no Interest in Property He Conveyed to Wife After Her Death.

Richmond, Nov. 7.—Litigation between father and children over property conveyed by the former to his wife after her death was decided against the parent Thursday when decision in the case of Levy C. Cox et al. against Maxwell G. Wallace, trustee in bankruptcy for Frea Cox, was handed down by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which reversed the lower court.

The question presented to the court was whether a bankrupt has an interest in the real estate which belonged to his wife at the time of her death. Cox, a voluntary bankrupt, claimed an interest in the estate of his widow, which was disputed by his children. The United States District Court at Richmond decided in favor of Cox's claims and his children, Levy C. Cox, Snow S. Cox and Mamie J. Caspar, appealed.

Three acres of improved land in Henric county near Richmond were conveyed to Fannie V. Cox in May, 1905, for a consideration of $2,500. Cox paid $1,500 and the balance was paid by his wife by note secured by a deed of trust on the property. Mrs. Cox died in estate on December 2, 1906, and in own money and had the deed of trust released to his wife, although dead, as the Virginia law seemed to allow.

Cox's children claimed the property belonged to them in fee simple on their mother's death and filed a petition in the bankruptcy proceedings laying claim to it. The District Court decided in favor of the trustee and the children appealed to the Circuit Court, which reversed the decision of the lower court. Cox gave the property to his wife absolutely the higher court decided yesterday. "It seems to be the settled law of Virginia," the decision reads, "under existing statutes that the husband can convey real estate direct to his wife and in doing so divest himself of any interest therein, the same as though conveyance had been made to a stranger."

SEAMEN FEARS MINES.

Nine Members of Steamer's Crew Refused to go to North Sea. Norfolk, Va., Nov. 7.—After being delayed about 12 hours because nine members of her crew refused to go to sea in her on account of the reported presence of mines in the North Sea, the Spanish steamer Vivina steamed Thursday for Liverpool. The Vivina arrived in Norfolk Wednesday from Tampa, Fla., to take on bunker coal.

A short time before the vessel was ready to put to sea late Wednesday afternoon, nine members of her crew notified Capt. Perez that they would not go across in the steamer because she was bound to Liverpool and they had heard that the North Sea was mined and very dangerous to shipping. The men also contended that as their quarters were in the vessel's forecastle they would be exposed to great danger if she struck a mine.

The men were firm in their stand and went to the office of A. C. Humphreys, Spanish consul at Norfolk, where they were paid off by Captain Perez. Their baggage was examined by the customs officers and after passing the immigration examination were allowed to land. Their places were filled by men willing to take a chance in meeting with the reported mines, and the steamer proceeded to sea.

TRUTHFUL REPORTS.

Alexandria Reads Them With Uncommon Interest.

An Alexandria citizen tells his experience in the following statement. No better evidence than this can be had. The truthful reports of friends and neighbors is the best proof in the world. Read and be convinced.

H. C. Smith, tailor, 919 King St., Alexandria, says: "I hope my statement will be the means of getting other sufferers to use Doan's Kidney Pills and be cured as I was. I couldn't begin to tell the agony I endured from my back. I didn't find anything that would cure me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me well in less than a month and during the past two years, I have had no trouble. The endorsement I gave, at the time the cure was made, holds good."

We strongly urge our customers to take in their winter's supply of fuel early.

Coal mined in the summer and early fall months is generally more carefully prepared and the supply is more certain at this time than it might be later this year.
